

Metro South Bay Is Yours

A Transit Postcard For Communities

Friday, July 16, 2004

Safety Begins With Me: Metro Bus Safety—Exit through the rear door whenever possible. Metro Rail Safety—Do not walk between rail cars.

Go Metro to Harbor UCLA Medical Center and Union Station —Some of the points of interest you can reach between the South Bay and Los Angeles by way of Line 445 via the Harbor Transitway are the Music Center, Central Library, Nissan Headquarters, Los Angeles Harbor College and the Catalina Island Terminal World Cruise Center. Also, free parking is available at the Artesia Transit Center and the six other Harbor Freeway park and ride lots. Call 310 225-6040 for a complete listing of Line 445 stops and destinations.

Go Metro on Buses and Trains—

Normandie Christian School students at the Wilshire-Vermont Station learned about bus connections at Metro Rail stations during a day of traveling on public transit.

Our Metro Customer

Edward Hayes—Student

Departing on Metro Line 357 on Western Avenue at Vernon Avenue.

Going to work.

Public Hearing—Public comment will be taken on proposed Metro bus service changes in the South Bay, on Saturday, August 14, 10 a.m. to noon, Inglewood City Hall, One Manchester Blvd., Inglewood, CA 90301.

Next Metro South Bay Governance Council Meet—Friday, August 13 in Room 209 A/B at the Carson Community Center, 801 E. Carson St., Carson 90745. Metro Line 446/447 arrives at Carson St. and Avalon Blvd., a few minutes walking distance to the center.

Questions?

Call 310 225-6040 or send email to morallor@metro.net
For jobs call 213 922-6217 or visit metro.net

Metro Memories

Los Angeles streetcars in Port of Los Angeles set sail for Egypt in 1964